

GoTo Networks Announces Agreement with Bostonia Partners, the investment banking subsidiary of Bostonia Group to be the Exclusive Investment Bankers for Australia West Express Submarine Cable System

GoTo Networks, Inc. and Bostonia Partners, LLC are pleased to announce that they have signed a Letter of Engagement related to the funding of the Australia West Express (AWE) submarine cable system. Australia West Express (AWE) is a new undersea telecommunications cable system being developed by GoTo Networks from Perth, Australia to Djibouti, Djibouti.

Bostonia Partners, LLC will be the exclusive investment bankers to arrange financing for AWE. Tom Dooney, a Managing Director at Bostonia commented "we are very pleased to be working with GoTo Networks on the AWE project. They are a very experienced, professional team and the project will bring needed diversity and bandwidth to Australia communications infrastructure."

Australia West Express is designed to serve the growing traffic demands of Australia to Europe with low latency and low risk. A terminus landing in Djibouti provides the Australia West Express client with competitive options for forwarding traffic to Europe, as well as Eastern Africa, the Middle East, and the Eastern Mediterranean, and the direct route from Perth to Djibouti ensures the lowest latency between Australia and Europe and other points west. Expected Ready for Service date for Australia West Express is 3rd Quarter 2017. Australia West Express will provide a secure, direct route across the Indian Ocean almost exclusively through deep, international waters and as it comes to shore, will be deployed in protected waterways. At the landing in Djibouti, convenient interconnection can be made to existing EIG, SEACOM, EASSy, SEA-ME-WE 3 and soon AAE-1 and SEA-ME-WE-5. The Perth terminus will be in a major data center (to be announced in the near future) with excellent connectivity options.
